

Property Sales and Acquisition

The sale and acquisition of property and land can be a complex area. Ensuring you have the correct advice is essential to a successful outcome.

The sale and acquisition of rural land and property can be a complex area. With many years experience in purchasing and selling rural land and properties, Alexanders are well placed to offer you specialist advice and professional guidance at every stage. Whether purchasing or selling we offer advice on the most appropriate method of sale, marketing values, lotting, diversification aspects, future development and key considerations.

Our dedicated and experienced team ensure that your property is marketed to the highest standards and offer a full sales service including the creation and distribution of sales particulars, viewings, regular updates and completion of the sale with advice offered at every stage.

